

"Spain, festival chronicles" collection book and exhibition

From the incredible tenacity of the faith, to the innocent foolery of the common,
 this book offers a glimpse at the heart of Spain.

Subject: July 17, Art Box Publishing will release the collection book "Spain, festival chronicles"

After publishing with ART BOX the favorably reviewed "SPAIN, a visit to the folkloric houses", the architect Motoyuki Itakura, left again on a journey through Spain.

There, he collected images about the mysterious and spectacular traditional festivals, and gathered them in the long awaited second collection book of his series about Spain, under the title of "SPAIN, festival chronicles".

From the festival of the women village, exorcism conductions, the rain-making festival, the communion of Camunas, the fire walking of the summer solstice, the dancing on stilts, the procession of the coffins, to many other folkloric dances, wedding ceremonies, and processions of traditional costumes from various regions, there is no other collection book to offer you such a precious introduction about all those colorful festivals.

To celebrate the release of the book, ART BOX also organizes an exhibition of Motoyuki Itakura's photographs taking place in ART BOX GALLERY in Ginza.

It would be a pleasure to see you there.
